Mention of Madrid reminds me that a colleague, Selwa Roosevelt, and husband Archie, will soon be leaving Washington for Spain, where Archie will assume his new duties as First Secretary of our embassy in Madrid.

Selwa will be quitting her "Diplomatic Row" reporting the first of the year and after a visit with her mother in Tennessee, will go to New York to visit with Roosevelt relatives until they sail early in February.

Meantime, the charming old Federal house in Georgetown which Selwa and Archie recently restored — and about which the former wrote so amusingly in the Saturday Evening Post — will be for rent.
